San Jose State College

VOL. XXVIII. SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, MAY 14, 1940 Number 139

WOODWIND CHOIR GIVES CONCERT AT 8:15 TONIGHT

San Jose State college's Woodwind Choir will take advantage of the fact that San Jose is the only college in California with two English horns in its Musical department when the group plays the opening number of its ninth annual concert tonight at 8:15 in the Little Theater.

UNUSUAL

The composition, a seldom-played Mozart divertimento, presents the unusual instrumentation of two oboes, two English horns, two French horns, two clarinets and two bassoons. Tonight will mark the first time this number has been played here, according to Thomas Eagan, director of the Woodwind Choir.

San Jose is also the only California college with four oboe players, Eagan points out.

Following the divertimento, the group will play Scarlatti's "Pastorale" and "First Nocturne", by Faure.

Dubois' "Garden Suite", a descriptive piece, will be played in its entire three movements. Following this will be a Lachner octet for woodwinds.

GUEST 'CELLIST

Miss Jean Crouch, guest 'cellist, will play two movements from Lalo's "Concert for Violoncello". Miss Crouch, a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honor society, has played frequently at campus musical programs.

Admission will be free of charge and students and faculty members may procure reserved seat tickets from Eagan.

BULLETIN!

Hugh Staley was reported released by his captors after being trailed by senior officials.

LATE BULLETIN: A war communique issued early this morning by the senior high command announced a lightning invasion of lower classes had met with complete success. "Their communications and transports were rendered ineffective and a huge number of the enemy were taken prisoners, including many officers. All of our objectives were attained," the communique said. More detailed information was promised shortly.

BULLETIN: Following the illegal kidnapping of senior dignitaries late yesterday afternoon, Senior President Barney Murphy proclaimed general mobilization of all members of the senior class and urged them to remain in a state of preparedness. He demanded that all seniors of the grades C to A report at once to the G.H.Q. for instruction. "An inner war cabinet has been formed and the government will be ruled by decree power for the duration of the conflict," he said. "All branches of the armed forces are ready. We shall not fail," said Generalissimo Ralph Kelly.

JUNIORS SNATCH STALEY IN SURPRISE ATTACK

Juniors jumped the gun last night at 7:15 as they put 'Blitzkrieg' machinery into operation and captured Student President Hugh Staley before the official opening hour of kidnapping.

Senior President Barney Murphy was also taken and held for a short time until he was reportedly released by a group of his classmates. An attempt was made to kidnap Senior Sneak Week Chairman Ralph Kelly, but he escaped.

Junior Chairman Frank Bonanno denied any connection or knowledge of the kidnapping and attempted kidnapping.

Staley was captured as he walked out of the room where votes were being counted for the student body election, while Murphy and Kelly were grabbed by the third year group at the foot of the Tower, following the regular weekly meeting of the Tau Delta fraternity.

Bond Petitions Ready Tomorrow

Petitions asking for a special bond election on a new high school will be circulated tomorrow on the campus in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium. Verne Williams will be in charge.

Circulated through the efforts of the Parent-Teachers Association in San Jose, the petitions ask for an election on June 11.

Upperclassmen Mixer Starts Off Activities

Filled with Sneak Week enthusiasm, approximately 600 upperclassmen met in the Men's gymnasium for the Junior-Senior Mixer, grand prelude to activities of this week.

GOOD MIXER

Called by "Uncle Jimmy" Devoss the "most successful mixer in the history of the upperclass get-togethers", the affair opened with a socko-baseball game participated in by members of both classes.

Following the game, all participants joined in "mixers" organized by Chairmen Leila Gilmert and Lewis Daniels, and danced to the music of Sheldon Taix and his five-piece orchestra.

Appearing on a program presented by members of both classes were Jo Miller, accordionist, Patricia Ironsides, Leila Gilmert and Viola Owen.

LEADERS TALK

Climax of the evening came with speeches by Senior Adviser "Uncle Jimmy" Devoss, Senior President Barney Murphy, and Junior President Al Aiton.

Promptly at 9:00, with each side in a fever of excitement, the Mixer was declared over, and upperclassmen hurried to hiding before the 10 o'clock kidnapping deadline arrived.

AMENDMENTS, COLOR CHANGE WIN APPROVAL

SEVEN MEN, ONE WOMAN NAMED TO EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

By BILL RODRICK

A bare one-third of the student body, 1,381, turned out yesterday for the annual spring quarter elections to put seven new student council members into office, pass two amendments to the constitution and vote favorably for a proposed change in the traditional gold and white colors of the college.

MURDOCK LEADS

Precedence of previous years was broken in this election when only one woman, Gaye Van Perre backed by the AWS, placed on the council and the Men's P.E. department

Huge Gains On Sneak Week Front Claimed By Both Classes

STATE COLLEGE, San Jose, May 14: In a bulletin flashed from their 30-block offensive late last night, the juniors report spectacular victories as the result of their "blitzkrieg" campaign. "The enemy is in hiding; the battle is ours," Bill Sweeney, of the Junior High Command, is rumored to have said.

STATE COLLEGE, San Jose, May 14: Five hundred juniors have been kidnapped in the latest of the senior drives, according to unconfirmed reports. "We expect unconditional surrender by tonight," Dee Portal, Senior Left Flank Commander, is rumored to have said.

Juniors are reminded by Sneak Week Chairman Frank Bonanno to be ready to attack either today or tomorrow; "Have all your beach equipment and your cars ready to go at a moment's notice."

Hostilities opened yesterday morning when the seniors, under the direction of Chairman Barney Murphy, rang the tower bell, expecting juniors to leave their classes. A notice will be posted in the Publications window the day the seniors sneak, according to Bonanno, to prevent a recurrence of this misunderstanding.

HOUSING MEETING

Under newly-appointed Chairman George Jorgenson, the college student housing committee will meet today at 2 o'clock in the student body president's office in the Student Union.

Up for discussion will be proposed plans for developing more college co-operative houses.

failed to place a single official representative. Led by Stanley Murdock with a total of 712 votes, the balance of the students elected is: Al Aiton with 684 votes; Bob Payne, 654; Bill Van Vleck, 569; Verne Williams, 562; and George Jorgenson, 504. Gaye Van Perre took sixth place with 523 votes.

Bill Van Vleck and George Jorgenson late last night announced that they would be candidates for the student body presidency, and Verne Williams and Bob Payne said that they would run for the office of vice-president. Stanley Murdock and Al Aiton could not be reached for a statement.

Observers took it for granted that Gay Van Perre, as the only elected woman council member would succeed to the secretaryship of the student executive body.

COLOR CHANGE

In the "test vote" taken by the present council to guide them as to future discussion of the color change, students voted 814 to 531 to change the colors although no combination was named. Another "test vote" will be taken Friday at the council run-offs with a number of combinations presented for approval, according to councilmen.

By a landslide total of 1,232 for, to only 149 against, students voted to amend the constitution to allow the election of the yell leader during the spring quarter. According to present plans, the election for next year's yell leader will also be held Friday.

Voting slightly over two to one in favor of amendment number 1, students passed the council sponsored amendment empowering them to fill their own vacancies by appointment. The proposition required that the original ratio between men and women be kept.

Election Judge Bill Hern reported that at the preliminary tallying points at 7:00 and 8 o'clock, the newly-elected council members

Annual Swim-A-Nic For Women Today

POOL, HOTEL D'ITALIA SCENE

Reservations for the women's quarterly Swim-A-Nic tonight can still be made, according to Miss Gail Tucker, swimming instructor.

Sponsored by the Swim club, of which Ruby Freitas is president, the affair is held each quarter following the issuance of blue cards. The party has been held since the initial opening of the college pool, according to Miss Tucker.

Following the swim, which will begin tonight at 4, the co-eds will meet at the Hotel d'Italia at 5:45 where a dinner will be held. Students are promised that they will be back on the campus by 7:00. Price for the dinner is 50 cents.

Co-eds may attend either the swim or the dinner, "but it will be more fun to attend both," Miss Tucker stated.

A means of easing the college's crowded conditions, which have become acute during the past few years because of growing enrollments here, again becomes a possibility. Beginning tomorrow, the Parent-Teachers Association is sponsoring a drive to petition a special high school bond election June 11.

Should this measure be placed on a special ballot and receive the electoral approval of the citizens of San Jose, a new high school would be built, giving the college access to the rest of Washington Square. Such a vote was taken two years ago, but a new high school was deemed unnecessary by the voters at that time.

However, the time has come when San Jose tax payers must be made to realize that no longer can they postpone the building of a new high school. The capacity of the San Fernando-Seventh street effigy, an eyesore and drawback in the city educational system, has long been taxed beyond its maximum, a condition that cannot last forever, for the high school's enrollment has also been on the upgrade.

Accordingly, the college is having to cope with nearly the same conditions, which cannot be met year after year and cannot be relieved unless we are allowed to expand toward the northeast corner of the Square. In that case, the voting of school bonds would solve two problems, both vital to the community and San Jose's educational set-up.

It does seem logical that if the tax payers can afford to loosen the purse strings to vote money for a municipal airport, they can do likewise to further education in San Jose. In fact, building an airport before a high school is a case of putting the cart before the horse. It is true that the city needs both an airport and a new high school, but the latter certainly has precedence over the other.

Since a favorable outcome of the proposed election would have a decided effect on the future of this college's growth and development, it is to our advantage that we assist in this movement. Petitions will be circulated among the students here at the college with a quota of 500 signatures set. Since getting the high school bond question on the ballot must be accomplished, students who are registered voters in this district should contribute their share to the movement without hesitation. —Swenson.

Here And There . . .

Plots and counterplots! Schemes and counterschemes! Headlines in the Daily during the past week have resembled those in the national dailies, carrying the news, however, not of intrigue resulting in death and destruction, but of a college traditional spring battle.

While soldiers on the battlefronts of Europe are trudging through the night to establish new lines of combat, juniors and seniors are trudging back from a kidnap ride, discomfited perhaps through lack of sleep but nothing more.

Lining up to face each other on the beach or river bank Sneak Day will be several hundred young men ranging from 18 to 25. Peering through the wire and mud of trenches on another battle scene will be young men of the same age and aspirations. They are being killed; we are having fun. How long will it last? —Perry.

Generally Speaking

By BILL RODRICK

TOO LATE . . . You should have started four years ago.

There are many ways of achieving some measure of distinction as a student in this college in extra-curricular activities such as in social affairs, student government, etc., but in a few days certain members of this student body will receive distinction of a different, and certainly more important sort . . .

Probably this week, the Registrar's office will release the list of those students who have garnered scholastic honors—who will graduate with great distinction, distinction and department distinction.

Many have drifted through this college having a great time, but getting no great grades. On the other hand, many have been so genuinely interested in certain extra-curricular activities, (whose importance in the mature of development of a student cannot be underestimated) that there has been possibly a certain lack of time for studying although many would refute this as a poor excuse for not making the 2-point plus average.

But real distinction will come to a few sometime this week, the kind of distinction that counts in the final analysis.

This, after all, is a college . . . and the many who have done little but have some time left here will probably vow to turn over a new leaf, and the many who are in the same position but have no time left will probably say the inevitable, "Too bad I didn't start four years ago."

THINKING IT OVER

By Gardner Waters

If consistency is any mark of a well-rounded argument, the communists seem to have much room for improvement. A year ago their organs in this country were highly critical of Hitlerian tactics. Then came the alliance with Germany about a year ago and the communist papers suddenly discovered that Hitler was really a saint in disguise and that only the democracies were to blame for the world's ills.

Last week the Daily Worker, New York communist paper, again about-faced and decided that totalitarian governments such as Germany were guilty after all, the judgment being based on the invasion of Holland and Belgium. Whether this is an indication of a weakening of the Russo-German alliance remains to be seen.

Somehow the invasion of Finland by the Soviet army seems to have been overlooked by the Daily Worker, their alibi being that Russia was forced to undertake the invasion to defend themselves against the democratic monsters. But that is just why Germany invaded Belgium and Holland—and England took over Iceland as a defense measure.

Out of these wars of epithets has developed an expanding war of bombs and shells. One seems to be forced to conclude that in times of extreme stress many of our high ideals—democratic or communist—are stored away for future use while man becomes a slave of his emotions.

ED. NOTE—All Thrust and Parry contributions must be signed by the writer. If requested, only initials will be printed, but the article will be accessible to anyone wishing to see it.

Dear Thrust and Parry:

I wonder if perhaps it might have been one of Miss Traub's candidates whose placards were removed from the Quad BEFORE THE HOUR OF THE NOMINATING ASSEMBLY?

Not wishing to cast any reflections on any candidate just because Miss Traub voted for him, I herein present the facts and suggest that hereafter Miss Traub should come into possession of more facts before she writes anything so bold as an editorial.

Whether the candidates knowingly violated the nominating assembly's rule forbidding the use of the Quad for posters before the hour of the assembly, I do not know. I don't believe any of these candidates were knowingly guilty of this. However, when Dr. MacQuarrie was asked about the validity of this rule, he notified his secretary, and shortly after, DR. MACQUARRIE'S JANITOR REMOVED THESE POSTERS. Dr. MacQuarrie was merely upholding this rule.

Now we would hate to see Miss Traub in trouble with Dr. MacQuarrie; so an apology to him is in order.

"Quaint" and "charming" are the words for a new library book, THE SONGS AMERICA SINGS, a work which inspires Librarian Robert Gitler of the reference division to relate this bit of whimsy about the book's illustrator, Hendrik Willem Van Loon.

"Van Loon's drawings are admired by a great many people," Gitler narrates, "but the story goes that the printers have a bad time with his illustrations. You see, the pictures look good even when turned upside down!"

The book, written by Van Loon and Grace Castagnetta, contains the words and music of America's best beloved old song favorites, including such pieces as "Dixie", "Marines' Hymn" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot".

A full page illustration by Van Loon accompanies each song in the book.

Calling all philatelists! Here's a volume that will send stamp-collectors into a frenzy of delight, FABULOUS STAMPS, by John W. Nicklen.

A veritable "Royal Family" of philately has been gathered together for this book, according to the author, who hopes that his work will inspire readers with the hope of discovering rarities to add to the list of fabulous stamps.

Intriguing titles of the chapters, together with illustrations of the stamps mentioned, highlight the book, which tells of "The Stamp Without a History" and "Mystery Stamps".

Good records are being put out so fast that it is becoming increasingly harder to decide which ones to review. One band that keeps waxing top tunes month after month is Charlie Barnett.

"The New King of the Sax" can always be counted on to issue well executed numbers. Charlie's latest discs are sure fire hits and are gaining popularity each week. "It's A Wonderful World", featuring the voice of Mary Ann McCall, and "720 In the Books" both show the great technique and imagination of the Barnett crew.

Although "Dream Blues", Johnny Hodges' ork, was mentioned several weeks ago in this column, your reviewer believes that it merits another plug. The sax section shines as it plays some wicked, low down, and knocked out swing. You'll like Hodges' alto work and Countie Williams' trumpet licks.

The Jimmy Lunceford band runs rampant on their latest platter, "Blues in the Groove". The Lunceford five-man sax section plays it wild and the brass echos back. Gene Young shows the power of a veteran behind his trumpet solos as does Jimmy Young with his slip-horn blowing. Although young in years both of these boys play with the excellence of old timers.

FAVORITE BAND?

In a recent band poll conducted at a junior college in Southern California it was found that Glenn Miller and Benny Goodman were that school's favorite orchestras.

If you are interested in a similar poll, hand in a list of your favorite orks in order of preference to the Publications office.

"I see by the paper this morning," correspondent Orgstroff paused to shut his portable typewriter, "that the juniors claim a 30-block putsch on the seniors; and at the same time the seniors claim the capture of several hundred juniors. The sophomores may be dragged into it yet."

We ducked at the high whine of a bomb; watched dust drift from the walls of our dugout, scattered by the concussion. He shook his head; "They took to bombing us last night—I can't understand where they get so many seagulls!"

He nervously lit a cigarette. "This tradition seems a little silly. They used to call this a Teacher's College—I'm taking a credential myself. How can I stand before those smiling little faces now and admit I was part of the Great War, remembering at the same time those mangled upperclassmen?"

He sighed. "The loss of so much life seems needless; why can't the seniors just come out and say when they plan to sneak? It just isn't fair."

He pointed to an ugly smear on the wall of the dugout. "See that? They got Bonanno last night!"

Tennis Team Meets San Mateo J.C. Today In Informal Match

A preview of San Jose State's 1940 tennis team will be held this afternoon at the San Jose Tennis club courts when Coach Erwin Blesh's array of varsity, freshmen and ineligible tangle with San

THE SPARTAN SPORTFOLIO

By Hank Litten

Behind the story of San Jose State's first tennis defeat in four years, suffered at the hands of the University of Oregon contingent last week, is an interesting set of figures.

Final score favored the Webfeet 7 to 2, which at a casual glance looks like the Spartans took a complete drubbing. However, the picture changes after an explanation by Erwin Blesh, Washington Square mentor.

George Quetin captured his fifth singles match and the doubles combination of Harper and Egling chalked up the only San Jose wins.

However, four of the remaining matches were forced to three sets before the Northern opponents finally won. In net parlance, any match that goes to three sets would have been decided either way. It was San Jose's tough luck to drop every one of the extra set encounters.

In the first singles Ed Harper, playing with an injured wrist, won the first set 6-3, and with the score favoring him 8-7 in the third set he held a 40-5 lead only to be tossed out by Werschkul of the Oregon squad. Final score was 3-6, 5-3, 10-8.

George Egling, playing number four singles, won the first set from Horning of Oregon U., but wilted in the next two sets to lose 4-6, 6-1, 6-4. Captain George Kifer, as usual, was forced to three sets, but this time bowed to Potwin 6-4, 5-7, 8-7. In the third doubles it was the same old story with Boscacci and Quetin having a 40-love advantage in the first set only to lose. They won the second set, but lost the match in the third set.

Coach Blesh, who is inclined to be pessimistic, said that San Jose would have won the match had they played it on any other day, but the breaks were just against the Spartans.

Throughout the remainder of the three games, the entire team was hot. In the Willamette encounter, Jack Dixon, who replaced the injured Harper in the number one singles spot, outplayed Bud Gilmore, the outstanding collegiate player in the Northwest, to cop his match 2-6, 6-3, 6-3. Dixon was unbeatable in the final two sets.

Linfield College, with an enrollment of 500 students, captured two three set matches from the local netters to keep the Bleshmen scoring shutout victories against the remaining foes.

Nothing but praise was given to the Northern institution by Coach Blesh, who stated that the trip was a huge success. Oregon university officials wanted to play the Spartans in a return match Friday, but as they had a game scheduled with Washing-

Mateo J.C. in an informal match. Leading the parade of future varsity material is Ronald Edwards, ineligible State student, one of the greatest young players in California. Edwards is slated to take over the number one singles berth next year.

Jack Dixon and Captain George Kifer will perform in the singles while Vic Ehle and George Egling will prepare for their invasion of Fresno Saturday in the first doubles spot.

Three players from this year's frosh aggregation may perform against the Jaycee squad. Jim Emerson, ranked as the top yearling singles player, Eddy LaFrank, and Jess Smith are the first-year court artists.

The Spartan junior varsity team meets Armstrong junior college from Berkeley this afternoon at Backesto park in the second match of the day for San Jose netters. The Jaycee squad is composed of freshmen and varsity reserves.

These matches will wind up the home season for the local netmen, who travel to Fresno Friday to compete in the CCAA tourney.

Relay Team Tops School Record

Hidden among the track summaries of the West Coast Relays held Saturday at Fresno was an item that escaped the notice of many San Jose sport followers.

It read like this: Mile Relay—Pepperdine College, Fresno State college, San Jose State college. Time 3:18.6.

It did not state that the Spartan four-man team was nosed out of second place by the scant margin of one yard and that they had run the fastest mile relay in the history of San Jose State.

In capturing the third spot, the team composed of Jim Kerr, Bob Woods, John Sedell and Vin Ruble negotiated the four laps in the excellent time of 3:19.8, five-tenths of a second faster than the school record of 3:20.3.

The new mark, which is unofficial because the team did not win, was achieved in the following manner: lead-off man, ran 49.6, Bob Woods 50.4, John Sedell 50 flat and anchor man Vin Ruble toured the 440 in 49.8.

ton State they were unable to give San Jose another shot at them.

The seven-man team stayed in fraternity houses on the four campii and were received with a great deal of enthusiasm by the students.

Blesh said that the University of Oregon physical education set-up would put San Jose's to shame. Blesh got a lot of valuable information on the cooperative house movement at Oregon where three men and three women's houses are functioning smoothly.

The trip was made in two cars, which ran up a total of 1,710 miles on the week-long trip.

SPARTANS TRAIN FOR C.C.A.A. TOURNAMENT FRIDAY, SATURDAY

TRACK

CINDERMEN UNDERDOGS IN LOOP MEET

Although they are defending champions, San Jose's varsity track and field aggregation will be decided underdogs in the CCAA finals to be held in Fresno Saturday night.

Defeated by both Fresno and San Diego in dual meets, the Spartans, will rely on come through efforts if they are to remain on the top of the conference cinder heap.

PICKS TODAY

Coach Tiny Hartranft will pick his team this afternoon when trials in both track and field events will be held.

One of San Jose's "cinch" first places, received a severe setback last week when George Hoffman, Fresno State polevaulter, cleared 14 feet in the Fresno relays. Co-captain Tony Sunzeri, who is undefeated in dual meet competition this year, was odds-on favorite, but Hoffman's leap throws a different light on the situation. Sunzeri's best mark to date is 13 feet 10 inches.

SPARTANS HIT

San Jose's hopes for a win in the low hurdles received a severe shock last week when Dave Siemon, who has the best mark in the conference for the low hurdles, was taken ill with ptomaine poisoning. Siemon has been in the Health Cottage for four days, and will undoubtedly not be in the best of shape.

Ticky Vasconcellos, who is also undefeated in dual meets this year, will have to jump his best if he is to defeat Collier of Fresno. Collier has been improving with every meet and was only five inches behind the San Jose Hawaiian in the Relays Saturday.

TENNIS

Four Men Play In Conference Tourney Friday

San Jose's hopes for conference victory in the tennis division will be placed on the shoulders of a four-man team, Coach Erwin Blesh announced yesterday.

DIXON ENTERED

Jack Dixon, whose steady improvement is slated to cause havoc with conference foes, is entered with Captain George Kifer in the singles competition. Dixon, who defeated the outstanding northwest performer last week, is given a good chance of finishing in the money.

The Spartans' premier doubles combination of Vic Ehle and George Egling will carry the Washington Square colors in the tandem event.

FRESNO MEN GOOD

Outstanding competition will be offered in the singles division by Dean St. John and Jack Clark of Fresno and Harry Mack of San Diego. Mack walked off with both the singles and doubles last year and is the favorite again this year.

First and second round matches

GOLF

San Jose Rated Favorites In Fresno Carnival

Five members of the Spartan golf team will compete against each other this afternoon at the San Jose Country club for the right to represent Washington Square in the CCAA Spring Sports Carnival in Fresno this week-end.

MCPHERSON PICKS

From the group, Coach Walt McPherson will select four to compete in Fresno. Eighteen holes will be played today, the final round of a 36-hole qualifying round to decide on who goes to the carnival.

Eighteen holes were played last week with Captain Warner Keeley, Ken Hornlein, Bill Hern, Herb Showers and Bill Parton carding close scores. Parton was low with 73, Showers next at 75, Hern following at 76, with Keeley and Hornlein trailing with 78's.

SAN JOSE FAVORED

San Jose is being established as the favorite to cop the tournament from Fresno, San Diego and Santa Barbara State college teams. Santa Barbara will be defending the championship, but this year will be without the services of Walt Gilliam, runner-up in the state amateur championship, who has graduated.

The Spartans, victorious in 32 consecutive matches, already hold a win over the Fresno team this season. They have consistently played under a 75 average.

TEAM PLAY

The tournament will include 36-hole team play with no individual championships. It will be held at the Fort Washington and Sunnyside courses, Friday and Saturday. The latter course was the scene of the state open tournament held Saturday.

NOTICE

The following freshmen will receive their numerals at Frank Carroll's office any time from now on. If any frosh are interested in sweaters please get in touch with Charles Boster at once. No sweaters will be handled through the graduate manager's office: Geo. Yoshito, Al Duty, Mike Bertoglio, Dave Hines, Carl Kuhl, Dave Osmond, Knute Peterson, Pete Filice, Roy Diedrickson, Merwyn Cowan, Warren Sunzeri, Kaleb Borg, Bert Robinson, Bill Helfbush, Gareth Adams, Jim Emerson, John Chiappi, Jesse Espinoza, Frank Luciente, Frank Bucker, Cyril Haylor, Pete Bruni, Itato Barbieri, Cliff Martinez, Sal Toramina, Gil Bennett, Frank Abbe, Bob Webber, Dick Miyagawa, Eldon Becker, Brenton Riley, Stan Smith.

will be held Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, with the finals set for Saturday afternoon on the Fresno State college courts.

LEAVE FRIDAY

The Spartans will leave for the Raisin City Friday with the swimming and golf teams.

SWIMMING

MERMEN AFTER WIN TO RETAIN TITLE

With several winners from last year's title team returning for competition, Coach Charlie Walker's varsity swimmers are favored to repeat in the CCAA spring swimming meet in Fresno Saturday.

San Jose walked off with the meet last year, winning seven out of nine first places.

CLASS

Jim Curran, who won the 50-meter race last year, and Gene Shirokoff appear to be the class in this division.

Joe Weitzenberg and Shirokoff will give Martin of Fresno, who won the race last year, competition at 100 meters.

Claude Horan and Roger Frieler are the 400-meter entrants. Horan placed second behind Wempe in 1939 and is a favorite this year.

Guy Wathan and Jack Porter in the 150-meter backstroke, and Jack Windsor, Ken Dallas, and Ken Aderman, divers, will be facing their first CCAA competition.

OTHER ENTRANTS

Other entrants will be Dean Foster John Hatch and Herbert Hussey in the 200-meter breaststroke, John Hatch and Herbert Foster, John Hatch and Herbert Foster, 200; and Wathan, Hatch, and Captain Bill Johnston in the 300 meters medley relay.

Horan, Weitzenberg, and Captain Johnston will form the nucleus of the Spartan 400-meter relay team. Just who the fourth man will be depends on showings made by competing aspirants in practice the remainder of this week.

Foster and Hatch placed two-three behind Mack in the breaststroke last year, and are expected to be up among the leaders Saturday.

Horan was a third place winner in the 200-meter race last year which was won by Wempe. Martin of Fresno nosed him out for second place and returns to afford further competition this week-end.

SPRING PRACTICE ENDS TOMORROW

Coach Ben Winkelman closes spring football practice tomorrow afternoon after one of the most successful pre-season training periods in San Jose State history.

Sparta's new football coach is well pleased with spring practice as a whole. He expressed his pleasure in the showing of the varsity squad at the annual varsity-alumni game held last week which ended in a 7 to 0 varsity victory.

Winkelman has high hopes for next fall when the San Jose eleven opens a home game with the Texas A and I team September 16.
